Carolyn

Following up to Joe's email below, IWM Consulting was contacted by the property owner yesterday wanting to know if we had results yet. I responded last night that we had just received them and anticipated being able to contact him about the results today. Please let me know what you decide with respect to us contacting the property owner today to discuss the preliminary results and proposed next steps (i.e. vapor mitigation system).

Sincerely,

Carolyn - I didn't get the feel that you were ready for us to contact the property owner and resident at [redacted] or start talking to the other 8 locations about access. Before I turn Brad's team loose (and they are ready to go today) I wanted to confirm that we're good to talk to these folks. At least, could we start contacting the 8 locations about access even if you wanted to hold off on [redacted] or now? Thanks.

Also, looking to be going into sewer manholes today if we have your okay. If we want to sample this week, we have to start the process today. Thank you.
